Mission Impossible

Imagine an iceberg the size of Brazil is crashing toward the earth. That might seem like an impossible mission. But we all know that icebergs don't fall from the sky, right?

In a way, icebergs do fall from the sky. One snowflake at a time. Over time, many small, individual snowflakes accumulate to create enormous glacial ice floes, which eventually pour enormous icebergs crashing into the sea.

In a similar way, the disintegration of family structures that is in motion today didn't just fall out of the sky one day. Over time it accumulated, one family at a time.

The Family Cycle

The family cycle is the most powerful and influential cycle in the world. It is by nature, exponentially self-compounding. This is what makes the family cycle so powerful. With the rapid disappearance of anything Biblical in family structures, procreation has actually become the catalyst of a frightening epidemic.

Mission Possible

How can this powerful cycle of family be turned around? By using the exponentially self-compounding power of the cycle itself. By promoting the founding and strong growth of Biblical households, one family at a time, the exponential nature of the family cycle can be harnessed for good.

Birth of a Family harnesses the exponential, self-compounding power of the family cycle. By using the power of the cycle itself, Birth of a Family is turning the cycle around, one household at a time.
